DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

- a. Line 4, delete "15a, 15b", and replace with --(15a, 15b)--;
- b. Line 9, delete "15a, 15b", and replace with --(15a, 15b)--;
- c. Line 10, delete "comprises", and replace with --having--;
- d. Line 11, delete "20, 30", and replace with --(20, 30)--;
- e. Line 12, delete "80", and replace with --(80)--;
- f. Line 13, delete "20, 30", and replace with --(20, 30)--;

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Ken-Ichi Hattori on March 16, 2006.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-9 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 1, 9 and 14:

The primary reason for the allowance of claims 1 and 4 is the inclusion of wherein said moving means is adapted to move said first detection means across an anchor-end region of each terminal portion of said first comb-shaped conductive pattern supplied with said AC inspection signal and a tip-end region of each terminal portion of said second comb-shaped conductive pattern controlled at said lower-voltage level, and simultaneously move said second detection means across an anchor-end region of each terminal portion of said second comb-shaped conductive pattern and a tip-end region of each terminal portion of said first comb-shaped conductive pattern, whereby said first and second detection means generates detection signals allowing the presence of a defect in each of said first and second comb-shaped conductive patterns to be determined based thereon. It is these features found in the claim, as they are claimed in the combination that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record, which makes this claim allowable over the prior art.

Claims 2-3 are allowed due to their dependency on claim 1.

Claims 5-9 are allowed due to their dependency on claim 4.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following is cited to show the state of the art with respect to circuit pattern inspection instruments and pattern inspection methods in general:

U.S. Patent No. 6,995,566 to Yamaoka et al. discloses a circuit pattern inspection apparatus and pattern inspection method including a plurality of finger pattern segments but fails to qualify as prior art due to common inventorship or under double patenting due to differing claim subject matter.

U.S. Patent No. 6,943,559 to Yamaoka et al. discloses a circuit pattern inspection apparatus and pattern inspection method including a plurality of finger pattern segments but fails to qualify as prior art due to common inventorship or under double patenting due to differing claim subject matter.

U.S. Patent No. 5,266,901 to Woo disclose an apparatus and method for resistive detection and waveform analysis of interconnection networks but fails to disclose particulars of the claimed invention, specifically moving means is adapted to move said first detection means across an anchor-end region of each terminal portion of said first comb-shaped conductive pattern supplied with said AC inspection signal and a tip-end region of each terminal portion of said second comb-shaped conductive pattern controlled at said lower-voltage level, and simultaneously move said second detection means across an anchor-end region of each terminal portion of said second comb-shaped conductive pattern and a tip-end region of each terminal portion of said first comb-shaped conductive pattern.
